Mr. Piyush JhunJhunwala is a Chartered Accountant and Certified Public Accountant with twenty years of corporate finance experience. He has held senior finance roles at PepsiCo, Reckitt, and Coty across India, South Africa, and the UAE, where he managed billion-dollar balance sheets and observed how institutional investors accessed high-quality pre-IPO opportunities that remained out of reach for retail investors.

In 2021, he founded Stockify to bridge this gap. The platform provides structured access to unlisted shares and pre-IPO opportunities in high-growth companies, applying the same institutional-grade due diligence Piyush used throughout his corporate career.

Stockify has facilitated over ₹1,000 crore in private-market transactions for more than 3,000 clients. Each opportunity is vetted with transparent pricing and secure demat settlements. The platform combines deep market networks with personalized guidance to help investors make informed decisions before companies go public.
